NATIONAL VOLUNTEERING WEEK

“ While our country is home to one of the largest upwardly mobile young populations in the world, it is also host to the largest population of poor in the world. With a shared zeal to give back to society, non-profits and corporate volunteers are together well positioned to address the challenges that lie ahead, and lead India towards a more developed and equitable future. It is in this context that the National Volunteering Week (NVW), from January 18th to January 24th, has been launched by India@75, an initiative of the Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) that seeks to bring together multiple stakeholders to realise the vision for an inclusively developed India by the 75th anniversary of its independence.

An excellent initiative by CII for initiating the India@75 national volunteering week. We are thankful to www.webridge.online for making us aware about this platform. This kind of initiative embeds us to be more strong and work with full throttle towards the service of nation and society.
